

CLEANR INDUSTRY COOKIE POLICY

1. General information

CleanR Industry Ltd. registration No. 40203579044, legal address: Vietalvas Street 5, LV-1009, Riga, Latvia, e-mail address: info@cleanrindustry.lv, undertakes to ensure the security of the CleanR Industry website <https://cleanr.lv/industry/> (hereinafter - the website) and its visitors' personal information and the protection of their rights when visiting the website and familiarising themselves with its content.

2. What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small text file or file that is stored on a user's device when you visit a website to record information about how a visitor has used the website, such as when they last visited and what type of information they were looking for. Cookies make the website remember your settings (username, language preference, etc.) for a certain period of time, so that when you browse different pages of the website on the same visit, you do not have to specify your settings again.

Cookies do not identify a specific device user and may only collect information about website usage habits, but may also be used to create anonymous statistics about your browsing experience on our websites.

The length of time a cookie is stored on your device depends on the duration of the cookie and the settings of your browser.

When visiting this website, the visitor will see a cookie bar with a message that cookies are being used on the website. By clicking on "Confirm All/Confirm Selected", the visitor confirms that he/she has read the cookie terms, including information on cookies (types of use, purposes of use, involvement of third parties, etc.), and has agreed to certain cookie settings. If the user clicks on the option to accept a certain category of cookies (the "Confirm checked" button), this will mean that the user has accepted all cookies in that category. If the visitor clicks on the "Opt out" option, this means that the visitor is opting out of all cookies for which consent is required.

3. Purpose and legal basis for cookies

Cookies are necessary for CleanR Industry to obtain information about how visitors use the Sites and for CleanR Industry to be able to improve them and make the user experience more convenient.

CleanR Industry uses different types of cookies which are placed by default (e.g. "necessary" cookies), but for certain cookies which are used, for example, for statistical and advertising purposes, CleanR Industry requires the consent of visitors. By providing your consent in the cookie bar that appears when you visit the site, you choose whether you allow certain categories of cookies to be used.

For "essential" cookies, user consent is not required as these cookies ensure the full and uninterrupted display of website content to provide you with a relevant digital browsing and online experience.

4. Types of cookies

CleanR Industry uses the following cookies on its websites:

- Session or temporary cookies.

These cookies help CleanR Industry websites to identify how the user of a given device moves around the website, remembering the actions taken on the previous page, and to ensure the security and basic functionality of the website.

They are stored in the device's memory and only exist until the device's web browser is closed, i.e. cookies are deleted when a session on a particular website is terminated or when a session is time-barred or has been inactive for a certain period of time.

- Persistent cookies.

Persistent cookies identify you as a user of our website and help us to remember information about you and the actions you have previously taken on the CleanR Industry website when you return to the CleanR Industry website. These types of cookies are used, for example, to analyse the number of users of the website, the average time spent in the relevant section of the website, how you got to the website and how the website is used. By analysing the data, it is possible to make improvements to the website.

These types of cookies are stored on the device you use to visit the CleanR Industry website and are not deleted when you close your device's web browser, but are stored for a predefined specific period of time, depending on the type of cookie.

- First-party cookie.

A first-party cookie is one that is set by the CleanR Industry website and does not share information with other websites or advertising partners. This type of cookie can be identified by the domain name of the CleanR Industry website.

- Third party cookie

Third party cookies, such as Google or YouTube, are cookies from websites that are not owned by CleanR Industry. The domain names of these websites are different from the domain of the CleanR Industry website. Third party cookies may also be stored on your device from which you browse the CleanR Industry website. You should visit the relevant third-party websites to read these third-party cookie management policies.

5. List of cookies used on the website:

Required cookies

Strictly necessary cookies are essential and allow you to access different parts of the website. These cookies are stored on your computer, smartphone, tablet or other device for the duration of your visit and browsing on the website or for a certain period of time. They are set in response to your actions that are considered to be requesting a service, such as setting privacy preferences, signing in or filling in forms. These cookies are necessary for the operation of the website and therefore cannot be switched off and therefore user consent is not required for this category of cookies.
